Dear Dr. Chueke,

Thank you again for your lecture, “Facing the Unknown: How Performers Prepare for Premieres of New Music,” which you presented at Mannes on Tuesday, 9 February. The question posed in your presentation is both significant and –until your work– underexplored. It was a pleasure for those of us in your audience to learn about your research in this important area.

With best wishes for the continuation of your research,

Dr. Lynne Rogers
Edward Aldwell Professor of the Techniques of Music
